FALL RETREAT ROCKS!

There have been a lot of changes to Campus Crusade at Cal Poly this year, one of the biggest being that we had to move our weekly meeting off campus. Due to this, we were very unsure as to how the Freshman class would be impacted. Well let me tell you, God is GOOD! We had the largest Fall Retreat that we have ever had with over 500 students attending!! One of the awesome things about Fall Retreat is just how fun it is. There was a huge dance party, ultimate frisbee in the park, and of course, plenty of time for In-N-Out which is very nicely situated right next to the hotel!! It was an amazing weekend focused on community and we saw that community draw 10 students into brand new relationships with Christ!! Besides this, several students made decisions to give a year of their life towards international missions. It was a great weekend and God definitely blessed us as individuals and as a campus through it.

MISSIONAL MINDSETS

Over the last several weeks, I have made a huge push with the guys in my Bible study in developing missional mindsets. I guess I would define a missional mindset as having a heart for bringing the Gospel into whatever situation you are in. Whether it be your job, your classes, within your friendships, or even in your hobbies, you are allowing God the opportunity to speak through you and into the lives of the people that you are around. It's a yearlong mission trip right where you are at! Well, some of my guys have already begun to take this very seriously. Over the last couple of weeks, one of my disciples, Alex, has begun taking this into the Triathlon team here at Cal Poly. Another one of my disciples, Jeremy has been having conversations with his roommate and even inviting him to church. It has really begun to challenge me to look at the friendships in my own life for opportunities to bring in the Gospel. One of the most interesting stories, however, comes from one of the guys in my Bible study who is currently leading a Bible study in the dorms for Freshman. Daniel went to Fall Retreat this year and was placed into a discussion group with three other guys. These discussion groups were pretty intense as each member was asked to give their own testimony of how God has worked in their life and they each had thirty minutes to do so. As the conversation progressed, it became clear that one of the guys in the group was not a Christian but was in fact an atheist. It's interesting enough thinking that an atheist came to Fall Retreat, but even more exciting that Daniel got to be a part of him surrendering his life to Christ that weekend. He is now coming to Daniel's Freshman Bible study each week and beginning to truly develop as a believer in Jesus Christ. What a testament to the work that God is doing and the lives that He is changing here at Cal Poly. Please continue praying for more hearts to turn to Christ this year!

Right: Amazing speakers, amazing students, amazing weekend!! In a word, Fall Retreat was...amazing!!

Please be praying for

- Students to continue understanding what it means to live with a missional mindset and actually live it out
- The new believer in Daniel's study to continue growing in his faith
- Me as I am trying to figure out my summer plans and where I will be on a missions trip
